TERMINAL REPORT

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

Activity: Farmer Cooperators Conference on DRR-CCA on Agricultural Farms

Date & Time of Activity: December 17-18; 8:00AM-4:00PM

Venue of Activity: Anabel, Sadanga & Monamon Sur, Bauko

Proponents: Extension Unit

Facilitators: SAFE Project staff & Project leader

Participants: Farmer Cooperators

Budget: PhP. 23,300.00

Source of Fund: SAFE Project fund (Representation Expenses)

II. NARRATIVE REPORT

The activity on project result presentation cum farmers conference slated on December 17-18, 2019 was conducted earlier in barangay Anabel, Sadanga on December 10, 2019. This was requested by the farmers because most of them are involved of the provincial meet which was slated on December 15-19, 2019. While in Monamon Sur, the activity was conducted as planned.

In barangay Anabel, a total of 30 farmers attended the activity. The farmer cooperators shared their experiences on the impact of the interventions that were introduced through the project. The S&T interventions that the farmers claimed which helped them mitigate the effect of climate change in their farms is the use of clean planting materials of sweet potato and compost, the water storage tank and the trainings conducted. Ms. Febia M. Copas testified that because of the portable tank she was able to survive her crops during the dry season because she was able to store water to irrigate her crops. Another farmer in the name of Julie Omansan happily testified that the project encouraged her to participate on the activities conducted to the farmer cooperators because she was given opportunities not only to learn but to mingle with other farmers. Moreover, she was encouraged to plant camote because of the results she has observed at the demo farm. More farmers testified that the SAFE Project has helped them enhance their knowledge and skills in mitigating the impact of climate change in their farms especially on the restoration of camote production in their locality. Ms. Isabel L. Walis, the farmer leader later expressed her gratitude to the implementing and funding agency as well. She further request a continuous support of the college for the development of their farm produce.

In Monamon Sur, a total of 36 individuals participated in the activity, 29 farmer cooperators, 3 barangay officials, 1 teacher and 3 students. The same farmer cooperator shared their experiences on the impact of the interventions that were introduced through the project. Ms. Cristina Moc-eng in her testimony mentioned that the portable drum motivated her to plant potato on the month of January 2019. During that time, the weather is drier as compared to 2018 on the same month. The drums served as storage for water that is pumped from a small creek found 100 meters below her farm. Mr. Efren Loogan and Basilio Ballo the farmer leader on their part are not convinced on the use of bio-compost but when they use MPSP-bio-compost consecutively for two years, they notice that crops planted in area applied with compost are greener, less damage by pest and more tolerant than plants planted in areas not applied with compost. They then conclude that effects of compost in farm is not observed immediately like the effect of commercial fertilizer.

Project Results is Presented to the farmer cooperators in Anabel and Monamon Sur

Farmers from Anabel and Monamon Sur Shares their experiences and observations in using the S&T interventions

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS

As the farmers had seen the results of applying or using the S&T interventions introduced to them, they must be convince to invest on this technology to sustain their farm produce. Later, it will help their organizations and their family as well.

II. RATIONALE

Under the implementation of the SAFE Project in Mountain Province, a series of support trainings was conducted and technology interventions introduced to capacitate the farmer cooperators of Monamon Sur and Anabel, Sadanga on disaster risk reduction on climate change adaptation. Among the trainings conducted are soil fertility management, integrated pest management, water management, farm record keeping and gender role development in relation to climate change. The trainings conducted were based on the results of the situational analysis conducted to the farmers.

Farmers will be evaluated on their knowledge and skills they acquired during the series of trainings and as well on the technology interventions introduced. The trainings conducted and interventions introduced are important to evaluate to see its effect as far as climate change adaptation is concern. Through assessment all farmers' knowledge, skills and attitudes (KSA) will be measured. This will be a basis to assist them to further enhance them on climate change adaptation related to agricultural farms.

III. OBJECTIVES

1. To evaluate the farmer's knowledge, skills and attitudes on disaster risk reduction on climate change adaptation on agricultural farms.

IV. EXPECTED OUTPUT

1. Results of evaluation of farmer's knowledge, skills and attitudes on DRR-CCA on agricultural farms
