II. NARRATIVE REPORT

- III. The activity started, on December 9, 2021, with an opening program that was facilitated by the SK members. The welcome remark was delivered by the SK Chairman, Mr. Anton Nasungan. Meanwhile, Mr. Ben S. Marrero, Jr, the chairperson of the Criminology Department of MPSPC gave an overview of the 2-day extension activity.

After the opening program, Ms. Claire Kaplaan P. Lafadchan presented the outputs of their researches on Hi Pogi: A Study on Street Harassment among Men and the Rape Profile in Mountain Province to let the participants know about how men feel when there are being sexually harassed in the streets. She also emphasized that rape should not be tried nor heard within the barangay level, as found in their study that there are still barangay officials who entertain rape cases to be heard in their level because of the intervention of culture.

Ms. Parline T. Ullalim also delivered a discussion on the types of Violence Against Women and their Children and its legal aspect. Further, Ms. Raquel C. Falangon tackled the salient features of RA 8353 and RA 9262. After the lectures, the participants asked some queries such as: When is the temporary restraining order (TOR) be released by the barangay official? What if the barangay captain does not want to issue TOR? What will the barangay officials do if a rape case is filed in their hall? How can men report street harassment? All questions were properly addressed by the lecturers.

In the afternoon of the first day, some teachers at Samoki Elementary School who attended the morning lectures had a brain storming about research writing with Mr. Eric L. Danglose, Ms. Parline Angyap T. Ullalim, Mr. Ben S. Marrero and Ms. Claire Kaplaan P. Lafadchan. A casual discussion on research also took place with the students who came to attend the program. Most of them consulted on the methodology writing and in presenting the background of the study. In another area, Ms. Raquel Falangon entertained the queries of students under the subject Human Rights and Special Laws.

At the Day Care Center, Ms. Merced C. Danglose and Ms. Gina L. Lacaben discussed on the classification of fingerprint to some students. The students who consulted under the subject Forensic Fingerprint were able to gain knowledge on fingerprint ridge counting and fingerprint classification.

The first day ended with an impression from the participants. One Barangay Tanod, an elementary teacher, and a student mentioned the knowledge they gained on that day. Announcements on topics to be discussed for the second day and the time call were given before the participants and the faculty members dispersed.

On the second day, December 10, 2021, more students came for consultation. Mr. Eric L. Danglosi, Mr. Edgar B. Mapangdol and Ms. Claire Kaplaan P. Lafadchan accommodated the queries of students on Forensic Photography. Some Criminology Interns assisted the participants on the demonstration on film reeling. They also gave important reminders such as 'not touching the film while reeling' and 'not to reel the film under a visible light'. In another corner, Ms. Alma B. Peningeo and Mr.

Bede F. Botengan lectured specific topics under the subject Comparative Models in Policing.

An overview of the subject Introduction to Criminology was attended by some Senior High School Students. They said that they wanted to know concept of Criminology since they are interested to enroll the BS Criminology when they reach the tertiary level. Topics on this subject were delivered by Ms. Lourdes T. Bandas, Mr. Ben S. Marrero, Jr., Mr. Cyrill Apangchan and Mr. Mark Ferdinand Banaken.

After the lunch break, Mr. Rommel O. Fechan and Mr. David Fagkangan accommodated students whose concern is on the Fundamentals of Martial Arts. There were no demonstrations since contact with other people is still prohibited so the facilitators only entertained the question of students on topics that they cannot understand or clarify about.

Still, Mr. Rommel O. Fecha answered the questions of a few students about First Aid and Water Safety. Two of the students who asked were enrolled in BS Nursing. Ms. Parline Angyap T. Ullalim, Ms. Gina L. Lacaben and Mr. Rudy Papsa-ao had fun discussing on specific topics under the subject Technical English-Legal Forms. They talked about the rules in writing blotter, spot report, follow-up report, final report, and the different types of affidavit.

There were graduate school students enrolled in schools outside Mountain Province who came to consult about their academic research. Ms. Claire Kaplaan P. Lafadchan explained the importance of the conceptual framework and how it should be connected to the discussion of the study.

Again, before the program ended, some students gave their impressions about the activity. Positive feedbacks were received by the faculty members and SK members regarding the activity. Mr. Anton Nasungan closed the program by thanking the baranaagay officials, barangay tanods, parents, Samoki Elementary teachers, college students, and senior high school students for their cooperation and participation.

V. RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that a similar activity be conducted in other barangays to give students the opportunity learn the skills they need. The limited face-to-face is allowed soon but it does not warrant the development of the skills among students such as fingerprint lifting, crime scene processing, and the manipulation of the portable tools and equipment needed in investigation.
